

OAKLAND PRESS BUSINESS

Southfield law firm appoints new shareholder

Brown

January 31, 2018

Kaitlin A. Brown was promoted to shareholder of Maddin, Hauser, Roth & Heller P.C. of Southfield. The firm's president and CEO, Steven D. Sallen made the announcement.

Brown specializes in employment law, representing employers and advising clients on preparing employment contracts, employee handbooks, and severance agreements. Brown previously worked at the Michigan Department of Civil Rights, evaluating and recommending decisions on appeals of administrative decisions. Brown was recognized with a Pro Bono Accomplishment Award by the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan. In 2017, she received the Women's Bar Association Member of the Year Award.

Prior to becoming an attorney, Brown worked in New York City making documentaries for networks such as National Geographic International, The History Channel, and Discovery Health.